

Mark your calendars for a NADOA CDOA Review and Exam hosted at the Denbury offices in Plano, TX on March 26-28, 2015.

Cost: $95.00

Participants taking the exam should follow CDOA application process on the website paying the application fees. Please submit your applications as instructed on the website (if you intend to take the test) so that your name can be published in the NADOA magazine.

The review will be on Thursday and Friday, March 26th and 27th with the Exam given on Saturday, March 28th

Denbury is our host and their training rooms hold up to 90 people – so get your reservations in as soon as possible.

The CDOA review will be valuable in three regards:

- 1) Those new to the industry and need an overall view
- 2) Those requiring NADOA recertification as well as other Oil & Gas organizations recertification's
- 3) Those taking the Exam on Saturday, March 28th

Denbury occupies a number of buildings so please refer to the maps to be sure that you enter the correct building. The address to google is 5320 Legacy Dr, Plano, TX 75024. If you end up in the inner circle the address number and Denbury's name will be on the front of the building. Please see attached campus map for directional parking in the back parking lot.

There will be sandwich signs out with balloons to help guide people when entering the campus. There will also be people to greet you at the back door as you walk in.

If you have any trouble finding Denbury please contact Lisa Greer at (214) 284-7403 for additional directions.
